CONN. AGGIES' SECOND SCORE ON N. F. A.

Adademy Boys Meet With Defeat-Score 6 to 0.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Storrs, Oct. 6.—In a featureless game the Conn. Aggles, seconds, defeated the Norwich Free Academy eleven here this afternoon by the score of 6 to 6 in a game where only straight football was used. Both teams relied on line plunging and end runs, once in a while a forward pass being tried, but they were not worked to much advantage.

in a while a forward pass being tried, but they were not worked to much advantage.

The field and Wpite were greatly knadicapped by the absence of Bill Stanley, Hennult and Capt. O'Hearn, who are out of the game because of infuries. The field was wet from rails and made open play dangerous. The playing of Hull was the feature of the game from the control for the game from the control for the game from the on resolved, itself into an even contest. In the second quarter the ball remained in the center of the field with no favourance to either side.

Fictests made a fine run of 30 yard ten like kickoff after the score. The hird and fourth quarters were the same as the proceeding once can the second to like plunges but Stanley. RED SOX HAVE SEVEN EXPERIENCED INFIELDERS. ittles Well Equipped With Diamond

In the coming world's series between the Philadelphia Nationals and the Boston Americans both teams will be well represented with infield material. All told there are no less than thirteen players who may be called upon to take defensive positions around the base paths. The Red Sox have seven experienced infielders, who by a series of shifts can be formed into several combinations of unusual strength both at the bat and on the diamond. The Phillies, while well equipped with regulars, are not as strong numerically, or in general average, as their rivals whon the infield squade are considered as a whole.

when the infield squade are considered as a whole.

This apparent advantage possessed by the American leaguers will not count heavily against the Phillies, provided the two feams are able to go through the series without the necessity of changes due to accidents or illness. Should emergencies arise, however, where it becomes imperative to call upon the reserve forces of the infields, then the resources of the Boston club would be a factor worthy of much consideration in endeavoring to forecast the outcome of the play.

During the most important portion of the race for the American league penmant the Boston infield lineup was as a rule as follows: Hoblitzel, first base; Barry, second base; Gardner, faird base; Scott, shortstop, Gainer was frequently used to hold down the initial bag, however, while Wagner filled in at second and Janvrin took Scott's place at short. In addition, Barry is familiar with the duties of both short and third, Janvrin can hold down third, and Scott is not unfamiliar with the duties at second and third.
